ABOUT US

About

Our logistic service is a separate legal entity from our parent company, LEVERSTONE, which was established in 2000 and has decades of experience in global logistics. The LEVERSTONE founded AGILOC Logistics in 2001, for the purpose of offering both asset based operations as well as third party logistics services to outside customers access to our team of the finest international logistics and documentation professionals in the refrigerated foods industry. We are a stand-alone and financially secured logistics company, with headquarters in San Francisco, CA. Our annual sales have reached $100 million dollars, and continue to grow steadily. Today, we manage a portfolio of over 750,000 metric tons of refrigerated food products and dry cargo, all of which transports across six continents and 140 countries worldwide. We've broadened our commodity base into agricultural, retail, and base manufacturing commodities. We provide Ocean, Trucking, Warehousing, Brokerage, and Contract logistics to some of the largest retail and logistics companies around the globe.
